Defining the Pack

The estrogen-challenged girls of the liberal movement referred to Bill Clinton, America's first black president, as the alpha male. If that is the case, when will they properly define his mate, Hillary?

The media jumped out early and has referred to Barack Hussein Obama as the macho man. Are we destined to have a Clinton—Barak ticket in 2008? Will the alpha bitch and the macho man woo America and take over the reigns of the executive office in DC? If the odds of longevity come in calculation, Obama is young enough to go from eight years as Hillary's veep to run for president in 2016. The question is, "Is America ready for an ultra-liberal female president and neo-liberal vice-president?"

The answer is a resounding no. Jennifer Granholm, the Governor of Michigan, is the best poster child against having a liberal woman at the helm. Liberal women have to have committees to make decisions for them. Remember Hillary's national health care plan? However, we are ready for staunch conservatives that will be capable of making decisions.

If we have a strong individual out there who can articulate the various justifications for their decisions and who is willing to continuously keep the US citizens informed, we may have a good candidate. A Margaret Thatcher-type.

Although as of late, we here at the Yooper Scooper have become very disappointed in President Bush because of his border compromises, we recognize that if President Bush had been before the cameras more frequently to speak of various accomplishments in Iraq, a majority of America would still stand behind him. As a result, the only ones standing behind him are holding knives in preparation of stabbing him in the back, especially political side-saddle riders like John McCain.

Regarding the exit strategy, we know that the Clintons exit strategy for the country of Somalia was Blackhawk Down, but we're still waiting for their exit strategy from Kosovo. We also know there was a helluva cover-up to protect the Clintons from the 9—11 Commission investigation. They even went as far as to oust Representative Curt Weldon, the town crier looking into the Able-Danger scandal.

Indeed, the liberals will succeed in their quest for power and governance over the land. We know full well that there is nothing a liberal won't do or say to take over America and compromise its excellence.

During the next two years we will see Hillary Clinton, who spends time cleaning out her closets with Willy, on numerous talk shows, but no one will dare ask about the 900 FBI files. The scandal-laden Clintons will get another free-pass by the ultra-left liberal media and a majority of the neo-liberal voters.

Our deficit is $53 Trillion! The deficit of Michigan is between $3 and $5 Billion. Social Security is a tale of tragedy, Medicare is a disaster, taxes are astronomical, the Constitution of both Michigan and the United States are constantly violated by all three branches of government, there is no truth-in-advertising for politicians, no accountability or expectations for the ultra-neo-liberals and while we're distracted with superficial debates, our rights are being destroyed.

Our options are becoming fewer.

The Separate, but Equal Nonsense

Who's in charge here? The over simplified statement that the United States has three separate, but equal, branches of government is nonsense. The courts overturn the Congress and the people, the Congress ignores the demands of the people and continues to take away our rights and come up with any excuse to disarm America. The executive branch is perhaps the only branch that actually gives a crap about the citizenry, but that's questionable.

As protesters gather to show their non-support of the war on terrorism and spit on disabled veterans who are engaging in a counter-protest, everyone remains silent about the Supreme Court Kelo v. New London decision. Before that, we saw the retroactive disarming of citizens who engaged in a "domestic violence" simple assault. Smokers are forced outside and the cost of cigarettes forces kids to pluck cigarette butts from outdoor ashtrays. Hepatitis anyone?

The government is working to force childhood vaccinations, which reduces the immune system. In one case a child received two doses of vaccines and contracted autism. But, what is most disturbing about the mantra that there are three separate, but equal branches of government is that no one seems to remember that the most important branch is the citizen. I guess we've been put in our place for a reason.

The North American Union and the North American Super Corridor Highway will eliminate borders, sovereignty and independence. It will, however, create an extraordinary burden of controls, restrictions, and requirements.

Prognosis of a Dying Nation

The long-term commitment by the environmentalists and their UN Agenda 21 cohorts to eliminate private ownership of land is only a piece of the larger puzzle. The Elitist Movement is underway and it's unlikely that United States citizens will engage in a new Civil Rights Movement. The prognosis of a dying nation is poor; in-fact it's terminal.

The only cure, which is not readily available, is to get rid of all those in office and replace them with people who have no ties to the elitist club. But it is very important that we seat people willing to push the reset button on the Constitution, overturn most laws, restructure and reassign leadership in all government agencies and limit outside involvement.

We need to get our own Houses in order before we even think about having shared and unrestricted trade with our nearest neighbors. At this point, it may be prudent for both Canada and Mexico to tell the Bildebergs and Trilateralists to take a hike. But, there seems to be tentacles stretched to include those governing bodies as well. We need to prepare for a hemorrhage.

Why You Should Avoid Taking Vaccines—PART ONE

By Dr. James Howenstine, MD.

Dr. James R. Shannon, former director of the National Institute of Health declared, "the only safe vaccine is one that is never used."

Cowpox vaccine was believed able to immunize people against smallpox. At the time this vaccine was introduced, there was already a decline in the number of cases of smallpox. Japan introduced compulsory vaccination in 1872. In 1892 there were 165,774 cases of smallpox with 29,979 deaths despite the vaccination program. A stringent compulsory smallpox vaccine program, which prosecuted those refusing the vaccine, was instituted in England in 1867. Within 4 years 97.5 % of persons between 2 and 50 had been vaccinated. The following year England experienced the worst smallpox epidemic[1] in its history with 44,840 deaths. Between 1871 and 1880 the incidence of smallpox escalated from 28 to 46 per 100,000. The smallpox vaccine does not work.

Much of the success attributed to vaccination programs may actually have been due to improvement in public health related to water quality and sanitation, less crowded living conditions, better nutrition, and higher standards of living. Typically the incidence of a disease was clearly declining before the vaccine for that disease was introduced. In England the incidence of polio had decreased by 82 % before the polio vaccine was introduced in 1956.

In the early 1900s an astute Indiana physician, Dr. W.B. Clarke, stated "Cancer was practically unknown until compulsory vaccination with cowpox vaccine began to be introduced. I have had to deal with two hundred cases of cancer, and I never saw a case of cancer in an un-vaccinated [2] person."

There is a widely held belief that vaccines should not be criticized because the public might refuse to take them. This is valid only if the benefits exceed the known risks of the vaccines.

Do Vaccines Actually Prevent Disease?

This important question does not appear to have ever been adequately studied. Vaccines are enormously profitable for drug companies and recent legislation in the U.S. has exempted lawsuits against pharmaceutical firms in the event of adverse reactions to vaccines which are very common. In 1975 Germany stopped requiring pertussis (whooping cough) vaccination. Today less than 10 % of German children are vaccinated against pertussis. The number of cases of pertussis has steadily decreased[3] even though far fewer children are receiving pertussis vaccine.

Measles outbreaks have occurred in schools with vaccination rates over 98 % in all parts of the U.S. including areas that had reported no cases of measles for years. As measles immunization rates rise to high levels measles becomes a disease seen only in vaccinated persons. An outbreak of measles occurred in a school where 100 % of the children had been vaccinated. Measles mortality rates had declined by 97 % in England before measles vaccination was instituted.

In 1986 there were 1300 cases of pertussis in Kansas and 90 % of these cases occurred in children who had been adequately vaccinated. Similar vaccine failures have been reported from Nova Scotia where pertussis continues to be occurring despite universal vaccination. Pertussis remains endemic[4] in the Netherlands where for more than 20 years 96 % of children have received 3 pertussis shots by age 12 months.

After institution of diphtheria vaccination in England and Wales in 1894 the number of deaths from diphtheria rose by 20 % in the subsequent 15 years. Germany had compulsory vaccination in 1939. The rate of diphtheria spiraled to 150,000 cases that year whereas, Norway which did not have compulsory vaccination, had only 50 cases of diphtheria the same year.

The continued presence of these infectious diseases in children who have received vaccines proves that life long immunity which follows natural infection does not occur in persons receiving vaccines. The injection process places the viral particles into the blood without providing any clear way to eliminate these foreign substances.

Why Do Vaccines Fail To Protect Against Diseases?

Walene James, author of Immunization: the Reality Behind The Myth, states that the full[5] inflammatory response is necessary to create real immunity. Prior to the introduction of measles and mumps vaccines children got measles and mumps and in the great majority of cases these diseases were benign. Vaccines "trick" the body so it does not mount a complete inflammatory response to the injected virus.

Vaccines and Sudden Infant Death Syndrome SIDS

The incidence of Sudden Infant Death syndrome SIDS has grown from .55 per 1000 live births in 1953 to 12.8 per 1000 in 1992 in Olmstead County, Minnesota. The peak incidence for SIDS is age 2 to 4 months the exact time most vaccines are being given to children. 85 % of cases of SIDS occur in the first 6 months of infancy. The increase in SIDS as a percentage of total infant deaths has risen from 2.5 per 1000 in 1953 to 17.9 per 1000 in 1992. This rise in SIDS deaths has occurred during a period when nearly every childhood disease was declining due to improved sanitation and medical progress except SIDS. These deaths from SIDS did increase during a period when the number of vaccines given a child was steadily rising to 36 per child.

Dr. W. Torch was able to document 12 deaths in infants which appeared within 3½ and 19 hours of a DPT immunization. He later reported 11 new cases of SIDS death and one near miss which had occurred within 24 hours of a DPT injection. When he studied 70 cases of SIDS two thirds of these victims[6] had been vaccinated from one half day to 3 weeks prior to their deaths. None of these deaths was attributed to vaccines. Vaccines are a sacred cow and nothing against them appears in the mass media because they are so profitable to pharmaceutical firms.

There is valid reason to think that not only are vaccines worthless in preventing disease they are counterproductive because they injure the immune system permitting cancer, auto-immune diseases and SIDS to cause much disability and death.

Are Vaccines Sterile?

Dr. Robert Strecker claimed that the department of defense DOD was given $10,000,000 in 1969 to create the AIDS virus to be used as a population-reducing[7] weapon against blacks. By use of the Freedom of Information Act Dr. Strecker was able to learn that the DOD secured funds from Congress to perform studies on immune destroying agents for germ warfare.

Once produced, the vaccine was given in two locations. Smallpox vaccine containing HIV was given to 100,000,000 Africans in 1977. Over 2000 young white homosexual males in New York City were given Hepatitis B vaccine that contained HIV virus in 1978. This vaccine was given at New York City Blood Center. The Hepatitis B vaccine containing the HIV virus was also administered to homosexual males in San Francisco, Los Angeles, St.Louis, Houston and Chicago in 1978 and 1979. U.S. Public Health epidemiology studies have disclosed that these same 6 cities had the highest incidence of AIDS, Aids related Complex (ARC) and deaths rates from HIV, when compared to other U.S. cities.

When a new virus is introduced into a community. It takes 20 years for the number of cases to double. If the fabricated story that green monkey bites of pygmies led to the HIV epidemic, the alleged monkey bites in the 1940s should have produced a peak in the incidence of HIV in the 1960s at which time HIV was non existent in Africa. The World Health Organization (WHO) began a African smallpox vaccination campaign in 1977 that targeted urban population centers and avoided pygmies. If the green monkey bites of pygmies truly caused the HIV epidemic the incidence of HIV in pygmies should have been higher than in urban citizens. However, the opposite was true.

In 1954 Dr. Bernice Eddy (bacteriologist) discovered live monkey viruses in supposedly sterile inactivated polio vaccine[8] developed by Dr. Jonas Salk. This discovery was not well received at the NIH and Dr. Eddy was demoted. Later Dr. Eddy, working with Sarah Stewart, discovered SE polyoma virus. This virus was quite important because it caused cancer in every animal receiving it. Yellow fever vaccine had previously been found to contain avian (bird) leukemia virus. Later Dr. Hilleman isolated SV 40 virus from both the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines. There were 40 different viruses[9] in these polio vaccines they were trying to eradicate. They were never able to get rid of these viruses contaminating the polio vaccines. The SV 40 virus causes malignancies. It has now been identified in 43 % of cases of non-Hodgkin lymphoma[10], 36 % of brain tumors [11], 18 % of healthy blood samples, and 22 % of healthy semen samples, mesotheliomas and other malignancies. By the time of this discovery SV 40 had already been injected into 10,000,000 people in Salk vaccine. Gastric digestion inactivates some of SV 40 in Sabin vaccine. However, the isolation of strains of Sabin polio vaccine from all 38 cases of Guillan Barre Syndrome[12] GBS in Brazil suggests that significant numbers of persons are able to be infected from this vaccine. All 38 of these patients had received Sabin polio vaccine months to years before the onset of GBS. The incidence of non-Hodgkin lymphoma has "mysteriously" doubled since the 1970s.

Dr. John Martin, Professor of Pathology at the Univ. of Southern California, was employed by the Viral Oncology Branch of the Bureau of Biologics (FDA) from 1976 to 1980. While employed there he identified foreign DNA in the live polio vaccine Orimune Lederle that suggested serious vaccine contamination. He warned his supervisors about this problem and was told to discontinue his work as it was outside the scope of testing required for polio vaccine.

Later Dr. Martin learned that all eleven of the African green monkeys used to grow the Lederle polio virus Orimune had grown simian cytomegalovirus from kidney cell cultures. Lederle was aware of this viral contamination as their Cytomegaloviral Contamination Plan[13] clearly showed in 1972. The Bureau of Biologics decided not to pursue the matter so production of infected polio vaccine continued.

In 1955 Dr. Martin identified unique cell destroying viruses termed stealth viruses in patients with chronic fatigue syndrome. These viruses lacked genes that would enable the immune system to recognize them. Thus they were protected by the body's failure to develop antiviral antibodies. In March of 1995, Dr. Martin learned that some of these stealth viruses had originated from African green monkey simian cytomegalovirus of a type known to infect man.

The Lederle vaccine experience suggests that the higher-ups are not concerned about sloppy and dangerous preparation of vaccines. Animal cross infection is a huge unsolved current problem for all vaccine manufacturing. If this vaccine production sounds like an unbelievable mess to you, you are right.

The influential Club of Rome has a position paper in which they state that the world population is too large and needs to be reduced by 90 %. This means that 6 billion people must be reduced to 500 to 600 million. Obviously, creating famines and genocidal wars such as wrecked havoc in Africa, and loosing new laboratory-created diseases (HIV, Ebola, Marburg[14], and probably West Nile virus and SARS) can help reduce the population. Other elitist groups (Trilateralists, Bildenbergers) have expressed similar concerns about excess people on planet Earth.

The company that was projected to produce the new smallpox vaccine in the U.S. was in serious trouble in England because of unsatisfactory quality of operations before setting up their facility in the U.S. Why would their performance here be any better than it was in England?

If there are important powerful groups of people that are determined to reduce the world population, what could be a more diabolically clever way to eliminate people than to inject them with a cancer-causing vaccine? The person receiving the injection would never suspect that the vaccine taken 10 to 15 years earlier had caused the cancer to appear.

Governing by Committee

During the State of Michigan's 2006 gubernatorial campaign, incumbent Jennifer Granholm avoided admitting just how dire the straits were that the State was in. Opponent DeVos was telling it like it is, but evidently even disastrous Granholm Administration was far worse than DeVos' conservative estimates.

The cutesy Granholm espoused her great plan to rescue the State from the huge losses of jobs, citizens and taxpayers' money. It was until after she was elected that we learned the State of Michigan is not only ignoring the State's Constitution requirement of having a balanced budget, but is violating it to the extent between $1 billion and $3 billion. She made numerous remarks that we would all soon say "Wow!"

Well Gov, all we have to say is, "Wow!"

Evidently the "Great Plan" was to get re-elected and then appoint a bunch of liberals and candy-striped moderates to come up with a plan, of which she doesn't have to take the political blame. The plan, which had several alternatives, had only one option that was viewed as most promising by the Governor; raise a lot more revenue. The lady with the Golden Ninny prefers to put more a tax burden on those left behind to sustain the State.

As State employees earn as much or more than the Governor, especially those working the prestigious jobs at various publicly funded universities around the State, the average working stiff has to cough up more cash to feed the bureaucratic monster and the greatest icon for a white elephant, Detroit. It's so bad, even if all the districts outside of Detroit elected Republicans, we couldn't tell the difference.

There is only one way out of the mess created by the Gov and that is to prioritize and cut spending. If it isn't one of those mandated programs, then cut it or get rid of it all together. The infrastructure collapse is one more disaster that occurred under her watch, especially education.

Recall Petition Being Researched

<http://clerk.house.gov/evs/2007/roll099.xml>

In case you missed it, Congress has voted on and passed a non-binding resolution in support of terrorists and is once again deserting a country that we had given hope and promise.

Why does it always seem that every time congress sticks their necks out, we get our heads chopped off as they continue about their daily business as if they've done a good deed?

One of our regular contributors to the Yooper Scooper has requested the procedure for recalling congressmen who voted in favor of undermining the nation during a time of war.

Although it doesn't seem likely a vote to recall will be the appropriate route to take, it does appear as if a vote of confidence with a resulting removal from office for those not gaining majority support from their constituents is a good possibility.

We will have to wait for the ultimate decision to come down through the proper channels. We will, of course, let everyone know what we can do to get the dimwits out of office before the next election.

It is just too odd how the Democrats and a handful of Republicans find it in our best interest to yap on TV about classified information, publish national secrets, and discuss torture techniques in public forums. Odd.

GM May Buy Up Chrysler Corporation

The negotiations are on between GM and Chrysler. The Big Three may soon become the Big Two. If Ford keeps failing to design and build some quality into their vehicles, it may soon become the Big One. But, we need to keep in mind Toyota, Honda, Subaru and Nissan are now stateside and actively competing for the US dollar. So, we may be back to the Big Four, just not entirely autos.

To back track about thirty years, Chrysler received a huge influx of your dollars to regain a foothold in the auto industry. The loan was to help save union jobs. Once Chrysler paid their loan off, they bought up American Motors to expand. Once they had American Motors, then they laid-off union employees and devastated a small city in the State of Wisconsin.

Now it seems the only logical outcome to all of this is that some more of our taxpayer money will be given to auto makers to temporarily prevent the loss of thousands of union jobs. But, what should transpire in the next few months is the negotiation between the UAW members and the auto makers; the line-level employees need to buy the US auto makers and help restore some common sense.

Why You Should Avoid Taking Vaccines—PART TWO

By Dr. James Howenstine, MD.

Other Dangers From Vaccines

In the March 4, 1977 issue of Science Jonas and Darrell Salk warn, "Live virus vaccines against influenza or poliomyelitis may in each instance produce the disease it intended to prevent. The live virus against measles and mumps may produce such side effects as encephalitis (brain damage).

The swine flu vaccine was administered to the American public even though there had never been a case of swine flu identified in a human. Farmers refused to use the vaccine because it killed too many animals. Within a few months of use in humans this vaccine caused many cases of serious nerve injury (Guillan Barre syndrome).

An article in the Washington Post on Jan. 26, 1988 mentioned that all cases of polio since 1979 had been caused by the polio vaccine with no known cases of polio from a wild strain since 1979. This might have created a perfect situation to discontinue the vaccine, but the vaccine is still given. Vaccines are a wonderful source of profits with no risks to the drug companies since vaccine injuries are now recompensed by the government.

The steady escalation in the number of vaccines administered has been followed by an identical rise in the incidence of auto-immune diseases (rheumatoid arthritis, subacute lupus erythematosus, psoriasis, multiple sclerosis, asthma) seen in children. While there is a genetic transmission of some of these diseases many are probably due to the injury from foreign protein particles, mercury, aluminum, formaldehyde and other toxic agents injected in vaccines.

In 1999, the rotavirus vaccine was recommended by the Center for Disease Control for all infants. When this vaccine program was instituted several infants died and many had life endangering bowel obstructions. Preliminary trials[15] of the rotavirus vaccine had demonstrated an increased incidence of intussusception 30 times greater than normal but the vaccine was released anyway without special warnings to practitioners to be on the lookout for bowel problems. Children's vaccines are often not studied for toxicity possibly because such study might eliminate them from being used.

A large study from Australia showed that the risk of developing encephalitis from the pertussis vaccine was 5 times greater than the risk of developing encephalitis by contacting pertussis by natural methods.

Naturally acquired immunity by illness evolves by spread of a virus from the respiratory tract to the liver, thymus, spleen, and bone marrow. When symptoms begin, the entire immune response has been mobilized to repel the invading virus. This complex immune system response creates antibodies that confer life long immunity against that invading virus and prepares the child to respond promptly to an infection by the same virus in the future.

Vaccination, in contrast, results in the persisting of live virus or other foreign antigens within the cells of the body, a situation that may provoke auto-immune reactions as the body attempts to destroy its own infected cells. There is no surprise that the incidence of auto-immune diseases (rheumatoid arthritis, subacute lupus erythematosus, multiple sclerosis, asthma, psoriasis) has risen sharply in this era of multiple vaccine immunization.

Vaccine Induced Type 1 Diabetes Mellitus

Dr. John Classen has published 29 articles on vaccine-induced[16] diabetes. At least 8 of 10 children with Type 1 (insulin needing) diabetes have this disease as a result of vaccination. These children may have avoided measles, mumps, and whooping cough but they have received something far worse: an illness that shortens life expectancy by 10 to 15 years and results in a life requiring constant medical care.

Dr. Classen has shown in Finland, the introduction of hemophilus type b vaccine caused three times as many cases of type 1 diabetes as the number of deaths and brain damage from hemophilus influenza type b it might have prevented.

In New Zealand, the incidence of Type 1 diabetes in children rose by 61 % after an aggressive vaccine program against hepatitis B.. This same program has been started in the U.S.A. so we can now look forward to many cases of Type 1 diabetes in children. Similar rises in Type 1 diabetes have been seen in England, Italy, Sweden, and Denmark after immunization programs against Hepatitis B.

Toxic Substances Are Needed To Make Vaccines.

Vaccines contain many toxic substances that are needed to prevent the vaccines from becoming infected or to improve the performance of the vaccine. Among these substances are mercury, formaldehyde and aluminum.[17]

In the past 10 years, the number of autistic children has risen from between 200 and 500 percent in every state in the U.S. This sharp rise in autism followed the introduction of measles, mumps and rubella vaccine in 1975.

Representative Dan Burton's healthy grandson was given injections for 9 diseases in one day. These injections were instantly followed by autism. These injections contain a preservative of mercury called thimerosal. The boy received 41 times the amount of mercury which is capable of harm to the body. Mercury is a neurotoxin that can injure the brain and nervous system. And tragically, it did.

In the United States the number of compulsory vaccine injections has increased from 10 to 36 in the last 25 years. During this period, there has been a simultaneous increase in the number of children suffering learning disabilities and attention deficit disorder. Some of these childhood disabilities are related to intrauterine cerebral damage from maternal cocaine use, but probably vaccines cause many of the others.

Many vaccines contain aluminum. A new disease called macrophagic myofasciitis causes pain in muscles, bones and joints. All persons with this disease have received aluminum containing vaccines. Deposits of aluminum are able to remain as an irritant in tissues and disturb the immune and nervous system for a lifetime.

Nearly all vaccines contain aluminum and mercury. These metals appear to play an important role in the etiology of Alzheimer's Disease. An expert at the 1997 International Vaccine Conference related that a person who takes 5 or more annual flu vaccine shots has increased the likelihood of developing Alzheimer's Disease by a factor of 10 over the person who has had 2 or fewer flu shots.

When we take vaccines we are playing a modern version of Russian Roulette. We not only get exposed to aluminum, mercury, formaldehyde and foreign cell proteins but we may get simian virus 40 and other dangerous viruses which can cause cancer, leukemia and other severe health problems because the vaccine pool is contaminated due to careless animal isolation techniques. Congress has protected the manufacturers from lawsuits, so dangerous vaccines simply increase profits at no risk to the drug companies.

U.S. children aged 2 months began receiving hepatitis B vaccine in December 2000.No peer-reviewed studies of the safety of hepatitis B in this age bracket had been done. Over 36,000 adverse reactions with 440 deaths were soon reported but the true incidence is much higher as reporting is voluntary so only approximately 10 % of adverse reactions get reported. This means that about 5000 infants are dying annually from the hepatitis B vaccine. The CDC's Chief of Epidemiology admits that the frequency of serious reactions to hepatitis B vaccine is 10 times higher than other vaccines. Hepatitis B is transmitted sexually and by contaminated blood, so the incidence of this disease must be near zero in this age bracket. A vaccine expert, Dr. Philip Incao, states that "the conclusion is obvious that the risks [18] of hepatitis B vaccination far outweigh the benefits. Once a vaccine is mandated the vaccine manufacturer is no longer liable for adverse reactions.

Dr. W.B. Clarke's important observation that cancer was not found in unvaccinated individuals demands an explanation and one now appears forthcoming. All vaccines given over a short period of time to an immature immune system deplete the thymus gland (the primary gland involved in immune reactions) of irreplaceable immature immune cells. Each of these cells could have multiplied and developed into an army of valuable cells to combat infection and growth of abnormal cells. When these immune cells have been used up, permanent immunity may not appear. The Arthur Research Foundation in Tucson, Arizona estimates that up to 60 % of our immune system may be exhausted[19] by multiple mass vaccines (36 are now required for children). Only 10 % of immune cells are permanently lost when a child is permitted to develop natural immunity from disease. There needs to be grave concern about these immune system injuring vaccinations! Could the persons who approve these mass vaccinations know that they are impairing the health of these children, many of whom are being doomed to requiring much medical care in the future?

Compelling evidence is available that the development of the immune system after contracting the usual childhood diseases matures and renders it capable to fight infection and malignant cells in the future.

The use of multiple vaccines, which prevents natural immunity, promotes the development of allergies and asthma. A New Zealand study disclosed that 23 % of vaccinated children develop asthma , as compared to zero in unvaccinated children.

Cancer was a very rare illness in the 1890's. This evidence about immune system injury from vaccinating affords a plausible explanation for Dr. Clarke's finding that only vaccinated individuals got cancer. Some radical adverse change in health occurred in the early 1900s to permit cancer to explode and vaccinating appears to be the reason.

Vaccines are an unnatural phenomena. My guess is that if enough persons said no to immunizations there would be a striking improvement in general health with nature back in the immunizing business instead of man. Having a child vaccinated should be a choice not a requirement. Medical and religious exemptions are permitted by most states.

When governmental policies require vaccinations before children enter schools coercion has overruled the lack of evidence of vaccine efficacy and safety. There is no proof that vaccines work and they are never studied for safety before release. My opinion is that there is overwhelming evidence that vaccines are dangerous and the only reason for their existence is to increase profits of pharmaceutical firms.

If you are forced to immunize your children so they can enter school, obtain a notarized statement from the director of the facility that they will accept full financial responsibility for any adverse reaction from the vaccine. Since there is at least a 2 percent risk of a serious adverse reaction they may be smart enough to permit your child to escape a dangerous procedure. Recent legislation passed by Congress gives the government the power to imprison persons refusing to take vaccines (smallpox, anthrax, etc). This would be troublesome to enforce if large numbers of citizens declined to be vaccinated at the same time.

Editor's Note: Be leery; be vigilant!

Experts Disagree with Global Warming

By Gary Palmer

In case you missed it, a Birmingham meteorologist has taken on the doomsday crowd over the issue of global warming.

James Spann, chief meteorologist at ABC 33/40 in Birmingham, has taken strong exception to the fear-mongering being done by those who believe human activity is the primary cause of global warming. He is particularly upset with Heidi Cullen, the Weather Channel's resident expert on global warming.

Cullen, who hosts a weekly program called "The Climate Code," angered Spann by advocating that meteorologists who believe global warming is a natural phenomenon be decertified by the American Meteorological Society (AMS). In a web blog written in December for the Weather Channel, Cullen stated, "If a meteorologist can't speak to the fundamental science of climate change, then maybe the AMS shouldn't give them the Seal of Approval."

In other words, silence the skeptics; silence anyone that might have any credibility with the people. And James Spann definitely has credibility with his audience.

Spann did not take Cullen's call for a global warming inquisition lightly. He responded by pointing out that he has been in meteorology since 1978 and that he knows dozens and dozens of broadcast meteorologists nationwide and does "...not know of a single TV meteorologist that buys into the man-made global warming hype."

Moreover, many, if not most meteorologists reject the global theorists idea that global warming is producing more numerous and more powerful hurricanes.

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) 2006 Atlantic hurricane season forecast is an example of the imprecise link between global warming and hurricane activity. NOAA predicted an 80 percent chance of an above-normal hurricane season for 2006 with four to six major storms. Even though 2006 temperatures were higher than normal, the hurricane forecast was a complete dud. As the Associated Press reported in December 2006, only five hurricanes formed last year. Of these, the only two considered major did not strike the U.S.

Spann and other TV meteorologists are not the only skeptics. In his rebuttal to Cullen, Spann referenced Dr. William Gray, Colorado State University meteorology professor emeritus, who calls global warming "...a big scam." Gray says the earth has natural cycles of warming and cooling and points out that over the last 740,000 years there have been eight cycles including four ice ages.

Another skeptic is hurricane specialist Dr. Chris Landsea, the science and operations officer at the National Hurricane Center in Miami, who disputes that there is a link between hurricane activity and global warming. Landsea, who was a student of Gray's, resigned from the United Nations' Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) because he believed the scientists had a preconceived agenda that was not based on science.

Worldwide there are thousands of scientists, including weather and climate experts that believe global warming is primarily the result of natural causes and is cyclical. In fact, some recent scientific studies indicate that the earth is nearing the end of a warming cycle and is about to enter a cooling cycle that could last several decades.

Dr. Nigel Weiss, professor emeritus of Applied Mathematics and Theoretical Physics at the University of Cambridge, says that while man-made greenhouse gases have contributed to global warming, the effect is primarily the result of natural forces such as changes in solar activity with "...increasing evidence that earth's climate responds to changing patterns of solar magnetic activity." Weiss is among those that believe we are about to enter a period of global cooling.

Another recent study draws the same conclusion. According to an article by James M. Taylor of the Heartland Institute in Chicago, researchers with the Russian Academy of Sciences have also concluded that global temperatures correspond with solar cycles. In a report released last November, Russian scientists project that the next decade may be the last one of relative warmth and beyond that point we will be entering a 60-year period of conditions similar to the Little Ice Age.

With so many reputable scientists supporting the premise of a natural cycle of global warming and cooling, why is global warming being pushed down our throats?

As James Spann points out, it starts with the money.

Spann wrote, "Billions of dollars of grant money is flowing into the pockets of those on the man-made global warming bandwagon." He added, "For many, global warming is a big cash grab."

While there are true believers that are convinced human activity is destroying the planet, much of the hype and hysteria is driven by money. But it is also about control and power. And nothing helps government expand its power like widespread hysteria that leads the public to accept more government control over their lives. In my unscientific opinion, that is really what the global warming issue is all about.

Anti-war protesters spray paint Capitol building By Jackie Kucinich

Anti-war protesters were allowed to spray paint on part of the west front steps of the United States Capitol building after police were ordered to break their security line by their leadership, two sources told The Hill.

According to the sources, police officers were livid when they were told to fall back by U.S. Capitol Police (USCP) Chief Phillip Morse and Deputy Chief Daniel Nichols. "They were the commanders on the scene," one source said, who requested anonymity. "It was disgusting."

After police ceded the stairs, located on the lower west front of the Capitol, the building was locked down, the source added.

A second source who witnessed the incident said that the police had the crowd stopped at Third Street, but were told to bring the police line in front of the Capitol.

Approximately 300 protesters were allowed to take the steps and began to spray paint "anarchist symbols" and phrase such as "Our capitol building" and "you can't stop us" around the area, the source said.

Morse responded to these claims in an e-mail Sunday afternoon, explaining that the protesters were seeking confrontation with the police.

"While there were minor instances of spray painting of pavement by a splinter group of Anarchists who were seeking a confrontation with the police, their attempts to breach into secure areas and rush the doors of the Capitol were thwarted," Morse said. "The graffiti was easily removed by the dedicated [Architect of the Capitol] staff, some of whom responded on their day off to quickly clean the area."

He added, "It is the USCP's duty and responsibility to protect the Capitol complex, staff and public while allowing the public to exercise their First Amendment rights ... at the end of the day, both occurred without injury to protestors or officers."

Yet, the sources who talked to The Hill were furious that protesters were not stopped before reaching the Capitol.

"To get that close to the Capitol building, that is ridiculous," the second source said. "[Police] were told not to arrest anyone."

The second source added that police had to stand by and watch as protesters posed in front of their graffiti.

Tens of thousands of people rallied on the Mall and the Capitol complex Saturday in protest of the increased troop deployments and the war in Iraq.

Trends Affect and Infect Yoopers

During the final part of the 20th Century, the fascists and communists took de facto control of the Democrat Party. The fence-riders and the guided-by-the-wind moderates were edged out of the fold and had nowhere to go except to the Republican Party.

The moderates and liberals have taken control of the Republican Party slowly and deliberately. There is no longer a real two-party system in the United States; only the names of the parties differ.

The GOP's conservative base has evidently become archaic and it stands in the way of both political modernization and enlightenment. The self-proclaimed progressives, a term used to describe communists as well, are determined to provide citizens with choices that have no differences. It appears as if the neo-liberals have now successfully infiltrated local UP GOP parties. Third-parties are gaining support.

The "do-nothing" moderates and the "know-nothing" liberal nut jobs are running amuck in the United States and all around the world. Even their 2nd alpha male, Al Gore, has been nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize and also received some Hollywood recognition for his fictional documentary and the oral presentation of his book. Yoopers too easily buy into this crap.

The anti-pleasure police, who would prefer a drunk beat the snot out of his wife so they can lawfully disarm him, are also engaged in the fictional evils of second-hand smoke. Although most states are in clear violation of Article I, Section 9, Subsection 5 of the Constitution of the United States by taxing cigarettes, there are no law firms willing to defend the smokers. Targeting of the one consumers' group that is not organized and has no real recourse or support to fight city hall has made the states millions in lawsuits filed by a rogue government.

It has been suggested that all children attending public schools must be vaccinated, but that is not at all true. In fact, it's dangerously untrue. Childhood vaccinations not only tend to reduce the development of a child's immune system, but the preservatives also cause harmful side effects like autism. The State of Michigan has laws protecting the pharmaceutical companies from "frivolous" lawsuits in order to ensure vaccinations are themselves given immunity.

The overall lack of advocacy to keep a child's exposure to wood and coal heat, second-hand smoke and other airborne contaminants will have ultimately done nothing but create multiple generations of weaklings. Since the anti-smoking campaigns began, asthma cases are at an all time high, but so are oral sexually transmitted diseases among middle school girls.

True Yoopers are near extinction. In their place are transients who tend to vote with Detroit and Hollywood.

What's UP By J. C. Powers

Referenced Link: http://www.isleroyalewolf.org/photo_ess/pe_EP_kills_moose.htm

There is a cautionary note for those wanting to view wolves in the process of killing a moose on the web site link shown in the title; it's a bit gruesome.

Those of you who have received the e-mails of the photographs taken from an airplane flying over the UN's Isle Royal International Park have seen wildlife in action. The wolves photographed are timber wolves; a natural predator in UP forests since the UP was formed after the glacier receded.

What we hope you do is take away from the photos an image of what a timber wolf looks like; they are not the same as the transplanted gray wolves or wolf hybrids. All timber wolves have some tan markings in their fur. Timber wolves also travel alone most of the time and pack-up during times of slim-pickings. In most instances the timber wolf also respects the hierarchical chain.

Unlike the liberals' alpha male, Bill Clinton and their liberal alpha bitch, Hillary Clinton, alpha males usually eat first, followed by the other males. The alpha female then gets their turn followed by the other females. This is very similar to the pecking order in the homes with multiple pet dogs.

The UP woods has sparse populations of timber wolves, but the aggressive and more dangerous gray and hybrid wolves are dramatically increasing their numbers. While in the woods, Yoopers learn quickly whether they are being observed by a timber wolf as a matter of curiosity or being sized up as a meal by the grays. There are a few tips we can share with those who spend a little more than 6.5 minutes in the outdoors in a day.

Timber wolves will invariably keep on moving when around humans or stop only briefly before high-tailing it.

Grays and hybrids will often flank a human to assess the threat and the vulnerability of the potential meal. The gray hybrids have been known to sit and watch when the human stops. They are also at times very bold and will just simply attack whatever moves; this is especially important for those who jog or cross-country ski in the woods of the UP. Spandex does not provide any protection. Snowsuits and leather gloves do.

Regardless, if you're moving through the woods on a jog or a cross-country ski outing, if you see a dog or a wolf, it is strongly suggested you stop. The movement of the legs compels attack whether the dog is domestic or wild. The same applies for cougar that also stalk the UP forests.

If you don't meet the requirements necessary to carry a firearm in the woods, at least carry a cell phone.
